Whitedove's Quick Glance "Color-Coded Crypto Guide":

Purple, Green, Yellow, or Red - It's important to keep an eye on all cryptos, things can change. Use colors only as a jumping off point for your own research.

Purple: Whitedove has this or would like this in her portfolio until a decent run up and then "take a little cream off the top." But when it comes to Purple coins, she holds only a small position in some relative to others. Look at her portfolio, but it is constantly changing and when putting in new money she generally spreads it pretty evenly among a handful of them.

Green: Whitedove feels it's good enough to consider and would have no problem holding it. It may not be in her portfolio now but that is because "you can't hold them all," smile. And she may add one or more of them at any time. AND importantly, she is optimistic about the chance for success.

Yellow: Whitedove feels it may have a chance and is worth researching further but she isn't looking to add it now, but it can break in either direction at any time. Numeraire is an example of this as it was Yellow in 2019-2020 and then just ran up. While some of these have a chance to go "Green" or "Purple" in the future, many have a chance to go "Red" as well. Caution is the name of the game with these unless your research and gut is strong. They are a "coin toss" no pun intended.

Red: Whitedove feels it was not something she was currently interested in and has either significant hurdles to overcome OR is an outright scam. Whitedove's crypto motto, "With so many good ones available, when in doubt, stay out." Some people get upset when one of the coins they like gets a "Red" because they believe the technology is good. We understand, but history is full of examples where the best technology or idea doesn't get traction or succeed.

I HAVE SHARED THE FOLLOWING MESSAGE FOR YEARS, "WHEN "Mania" hits, EXPECT MEDIOCRE AND EVEN POOR PROJECTS TO RUN UP. A sign we are near the end of an overheated run up is when even some junk coins have significant pumps. Many will confuse a price rise in mediocre or not so good coins with fundamentals, only to find that many of the projects/coins that had runs will go away in the future." *

* Institutions buying specific projects will temporarily pump coins.

* If a coin that isn't very good is running, check the volume and research whether or not there might be some Exchange "shenanigans" i.e. funny business/fake volume/wash trading/artificial pumping.

* It's important to keep an eye on all cryptos, things can change. It is not prudent to only look at the color and make a decision--this is only a jumping off point for your thorough research. A "YELLOW" coin can do very well, it is just undetermined at the time of my reading which direction it will go and what the long term viability is.

* Those listed "Red" can still get "pumps" for various reasons, but I just stay away from them.

99bitcoins.com keeps a running list of dead projects and the site can be helpful.

New Report Starts Here

Hang on to the tiger's tail, it's a wild ride. We're almost through the downtrend and consolidation. Not too much more time before things get better. Take a deep breath, relax and see what stands out most to you, but I would not skip around this report. I would read through everything from beginning to end and then go back to what speaks to you most.

Let's start with a "blast from the past" -- it's always good to look at where we've been so our new friends can feel how the waves roll in and out over time. Most everyone who has been in the crypto market with us for the past 4 plus years has realized that it really just takes time to do well, that coupled with picking a few winners. In short, several years in a few of the solid projects generally nets spectacular results. The problem is most people join during the Hype phases/Peak phases and then have to watch their picks go down for a year or two before they level out and eventually start moving up again. Pretty much any crypto someone selected in April of 2021 is down 75 to 99 percent from its peak--everything. The good ones will come back, it just takes time.

Check out the prediction below for perspective...remember that it took years to play out, but it played out. Published on 11 August 2018. Think about that when reading the following, again it was published on 11 Aug 2018 and no one in the world said anything even remotely close to this when it was FIRST POSTED in 2018. Also think back to how many people gave up on Theta in 2018, 2019 and early 2020. All credit to spirit.

11 August 2018, written and published in the depths of the crypto Bear Market.
"In prayer this morning, the 11th of August 2018, I asked Great Spirit for absolute clarity and "Are cryptos here for the future?" and "Is this still what we need to be in?" Spirit reassured me that everything is as I've been sharing with you. BUT SPIRIT SHARED SOMETHING ELSE, SOMETHING MORE IMPORTANT THAN ALL OF THE NUMBERS AND OTHER INFORMATION. SPIRIT SAID TO let the people know they have control. People forget their own power because of all the programming they've been exposed to. How we're raised, our religion, our experiences, and all the other things swirling around in our heads will numb us to the truth if we aren't vigilant.

Overall market is going higher than last peak! Theta Is still "The One." Spirit recently showed me around 2 years or so from now Theta will be in the dollars and at the 3 year or so point those that have held that long are going to say "wow, should we sell it now, let's not get greedy'. But spirit told me, in five years or so from now, you will be sitting on a gold mine. It's going to be significant to the point that people will look back and say. "I should have or could have got that." And those who did will have "generational" wealth.

If you want an idea of how it will play out over the years look at the early stages of the crypto market. Again, this is just to give you an example. It basically took a while to get started. So Theta will take a while to get started but I would not wait to get it. Back to the example of the early stages of the crypto market, it went through a series of 10x growth spurts over the years, the waves (lots of ups and down as would be expected-- nothing goes straight up).

Remember, it moves slow in the beginning. Things move slow until they don't. Once it gets some legs it goes around 10x each 12 months or so until it slows down to 10x every several years or so (sharp inclines and pull backs). This is just an example. Do not get crazy about this, it will happen and this is just an example. Similar to the Bitcoin pattern over the past 10 years, but compressed. When you think about where it currently is at about 10 cents when it goes through just 4 fresh 10x periods, it's into the $1,000 range. .10 to 1.00. 1.00 to 10.00. 10.00 to 100.00 and finally 100.00 to 1.000+ Can you picture it? I can." The Whitedove Report 2, 11 August 2018, by Michelle Whitedove

So often people write and they ask questions like “are you sure about Theta?” or “do you still like Persistence, it’s down so much?” I’m so glad people ask. IT IS SO IMPORTANT TO CHECK IN. Every month I check in on my favorites and occasionally things change. So it is so important to check in.

I have about 20 or so I hold, some in far smaller amounts than others, but I just hold what I believe in. You should only hold what you really believe in. Why? Because if you don’t truly believe in it, you will get shaken out of it. Look at my Portfolio again and see if there is anything that you really like. If you are constantly worried about Theta or Persistence, then you may want to opt for something else. Maybe Ethereum or Cardano or Polkadot or Near Protocol or Polygon or The Sandbox or XRP. The key is to figure out what you believe in, not just what I believe in. Of the projects that I have looked at, there are ONLY 23 I’d even consider putting 1% or more of my portfolio in AND you know I’m serious about spreading my portfolio out (I diversify).

DeFi (My TOP 2) Persistence and Aave.

Store of Value OR Digital Currency (My TOP 4) XRP, BTC, XLM, BCH.

Smart Contracts, Layer One or Two Protocols (My TOP 6) Cardano, Ethereum, Polkadot, Polygon, Near Protocol, and Cosmos.

Metaverse, NFT, and Gaming Related (My TOP 4) The Sandbox, Decentraland, Disney (not out yet, if they come out with their own coin, I will get it) and Bloktopia which is a Wild card bet, small bet...lottery ticket type of play.

Utility Tokens (My TOP 4) Theta, Theta Fuel, VeChain, and Chainlink.

* Exchange Coins (My TOP 3, while I like holding these, they are relatively small plays for me and only hold them as people will use the platforms. I don’t necessarily like the companies, except UNI because it is decentralized but you can bet gov’t and the powers that be will go after decentralized platforms which they feel threatened by or that they feel they cannot control) BNB, FTT and UNI.

For months you've been saying 2022 WOULD NOT get much better until late in the year or early next. Specifically, months ago, you published "Cryptos will be up and down and up and down through 2022 AND they won't find a new phase until SOMETIME around the US Holidays which are towards the end of this year or beginning of next (US Holidays are Nov to Jan)" and that "Cryptos will have a better year in 2023 and 2024 AND that we won't have to wait until the Bitcoin Halving in 2024 to see better days or for the next peak in 2025 like a traditional 4 year cycle dictates." I find it so fascinating that you are basically saying we are in what is likely to be an extended type of cycle, maybe a 6 + or - year cycle because that would line up with the very small group of technical experts who are saying we will likely have what is called a LEFT TRANSLATED cycle this time. Does that mean you feel the crypto market will hit new all-time highs in 2023 or just be a much better year than 2022?

That's a long question and I don't understand all of this cycle stuff like you guys do. What is the short version of the question? Okay, putting general timing aside, I feel 2023 will be a much better year and essentially that those who think the next peak isn't until 2025 just might get caught off guard and left holding the bag. I feel things will get moving up quicker than the majority end up calculating for (not as quick as you want, but quicker than mainstream thinks) and then PEAK a little sooner than many calculate for. So you could call our current cycle an extended cycle or you could call our last one a shortened one followed by a shortened one. But like we talked about in the last reports, I feel people get messed up by trying to label everything versus just going with the flow and knowing there is a time for accumulating and sitting tight. Later there is a time for profit taking. You know what I meant?

People will not have to wait until 2024 for things to get good again, but I am not great with timing. And it may take that long for some of the projects to reach their previous all-time highs. I feel like many will give up and become "exhausted" before we get rolling again, that is just how markets work BUT for those who can stuff their feelings of depression and impatience, they will get to experience a pretty wild ride. Sadly, I feel a lot of people will give up on Persistence and Theta and others as well, but a handful of us will hang in for the eventual run up. For those who can stick around, the key will be if they can stick to a profit taking plan when things get rolling again. You know? Like, things will start going up and people will start hearing all of this stuff that makes them think prices will just continue to go nuts forever or a prolonged period of time. You will hear "Bitcoin to a million dollars" and all of that type of talk. That is not how the next peak will go. Bottom line, this year and for some time still, this is the time to "accumulate responsibly" and/or sit tight because as scary as the market may feel over the next months, it will come back. This is where the real work is done. This is where people build their stockpile of coins that have the big run ups later on. Those who can stay focused and tighten up their strategy will be rewarded. Look at our last report, the August Patreon Report for how to build a strategy. For me, that means trying to accumulate a diverse group of my favorites, even though it may feel like they are not doing anything. You know, like Theta, Persistence, Cardano, Polkadot, Ethereum, XRP, Chainlink, The Sandbox, Decentraland, Near Protocol, Cosmos etc.). And let's touch on that "accumulate responsibly" message again. I WOULD NOT GO OUT AND GET ANY SIGNIFICANT AMOUNT OF the wild card plays like SuperOne. No! I said this last month, any projects where you feel there is a good chance of a “rug pull” or any type of “greed” or “unethical” aspects, it is best to just stay away. When in doubt, stay out. Never much money in any one project--diversification is so important to me. This reminds me of Reddcoin. The first time I reviewed it in April of 2019 I shared “No. Yellow.” But then in May, spirit just said the word and I didn’t get any other info. So I just picked up $100 because I didn’t know how to interpret the message. Later on and recently, I have continually shared that Reddcoin is a wild card play and only has a small chance of having something good happen, but there is a chance and anything can happen. I am hanging on to the tiny bit I have, but I wouldn’t buy it or count on it. I only take the coins in my Top 23 seriously enough to put any real money in and Reddcoin is not in my top picks. Hey, that’s just me, that is what I’m doing. Everyone gets to do what they like. Some people love projects I have stayed away from for years, like Dent, Veritaseum, Populous and Salt. That’s up to you. I just share what I am doing and then cheer everyone on.

The general narrative during last cycle was that Bitcoin would go to six figures but in 2019 you shared “NO” and that you saw “Bitcoin peaking around $70,000.” All of us who have been with you since 2018 and 2019 remember that. I remember a year or so after that everyone was wearing you out and you said “well okay, maybe $70K to $90K with a possible wick up to $100K” but I think that was you just getting tired of people poking at you. I don’t know if you realize this, but Bitcoin peaked at almost exactly $70K. Now you have recently said you see $120K-$125K for an upcoming peak in the next years. Before everyone starts poking at you and asking about $200K or $300K or $1M, I would like to ask you something. Should we look at that $120K to $125K as an indicator for when to sell our other cryptos like Theta and Persistence and Cardano and Ethereum and XRP? No. Pay close attention to every coin or project independent of Bitcoin--watch each project on its’ own merits and development, you know, watch it independent of the overall market. Of course the market is the market and Bitcoin is very important, but I predict different projects will run at different times and I plan on taking profits at certain predetermined targets, regardless if that is in one year or 3 years. But, let me say this carefully, my strategy today is based off of the messages I am getting now and things can change. I get a MOST PROBABLE outcome, but nothing is written in stone. Things can and do change and I remain flexible. I always share what I am doing and I always share when I change course. Some people have a hard time with that, but the only time I get in trouble is when I don’t listen to spirit. With that said, if you look at all of the 900 or so cryptos we’ve written about over the past 4 years, over 90% of the ratings/reviews have remained the same.

Would you trade XRP for SuperOne? No. XRP is an important part of my portfolio and I only hold a little bit of SuperOne as a lottery ticket type of play in a very small amount. Why do I hold a tiny bit of SuperOne when I don’t have much confidence in it? Just in the off chance the founders decide to do the right thing--it is a long shot and I had mixed messages on it. Bottom line, I like the concept of a sports and entertainment type of play to earn game, but odds are this one is not going to be one of the big games that comes along one day. In short, no way, I would not trade my XRP for SuperOne. On 22 Aug, about one month ago, shared I rated it (SuperOne) Yellow Purple and that I would not put much at all in it. Now, I feel it is almost a pure coin toss or “Yellow” for all the red flags I felt last month and still feel. SuperOne could make this something good, but, sadly, there is a good chance they go the other way and rig it, like, not release it or if they release it they use the computer to win so it is not fair. This has to be very closely watched and they need to be on the up and up. I’m going to write more later in this report, but, for now, the short answer is I would not trade my XRP for SuperOne. In fact, there are more than 20 projects I would bet on before SuperOne. While I feel SuperOne has a winning concept, I just feel the leader is too risky. On the other hand, Kait, who originally asked about this and who believes in it, is a really kind and caring person. And I hope people do their research before getting into any project.

“How high will Persistence go?” I see it eventually breaking into the top 30 (30-39) on CMC and it could go to $100, $200 and even $300, in time. Spirit has never just given me a number like I got for Theta. Remember in 2021, after Theta went up 300 or 400 X from it’s low of .04, everyone wanted to know what the next “Theta type of coin” was? Well, spirit shared, “Persistence will be like Theta in some ways.” Maybe Persistence is more like Theta than we all expected as Theta came out right at the end of the last big Market run up in the beginning of 2018 and seemingly Persistence came out at the last big alt coin peak which was (for many projects) in April/May of 2021. Hmmm. See any similarities there? I do. Persistence has not experienced its’ first big market mania phase yet.

Another similarity is the price drop after initial run up. Remember how Theta came out in early 2018 and reached as high as .20 or so and then dropped 80 percent over the next couple of years! Ouch! People panicked got mad and many gave up. Let me say that again, Theta dropped huge after it came out in 2018 and lots of people got mad at me and gave up on it. However, those who held Theta during 2018 and 2019 got the free Theta Fuel Airdrop. Hmm...sound familiar? Persistence came out and has dropped in price but we got some airdrops, but some are giving up on it. Theta did a multi hundred X move up from its low. Will Persistence? We will see, it certainly has a shot for a 100 X or more move in the future and we will see over the next couple of years or so. Nothing is written in stone and anything can happen, but there’s a reason I’m betting on Persistence. I feel they will do what they set out to do.

One of my friends told me, “You know you were early on highlighting a lot of the Top 20 you’ve picked, but now most of the big “influencers” out there agree and also pick your Top 20 as some of the top projects to watch in the ecosystem. However, what amazes me is you pick these random projects or sleepers out of thin air that virtually nobody else pays attention to. One, of course is Theta. It seems most of the top “crypto influencers” were very late to catch on and still barely touch on it except I did see Altcoin Daily (who has well over one million followers) recently cover it. BUT no one big has picked up on Persistence yet. I know it is down, much like Theta was in 2018 when you first shared it was your top pick, but I just get goose bumps when I think about where it can go if they put it all together and get even a little traction.” Yes, it seems many are onboard now with most of my top picks, but I feel the “sleepers” (Theta and Persistence) as you call them, despite being down and really because they are down, will be game changers for those who are patient and DCA in. And I only like them because spirit liked them. I don’t pick them out of thin air as you know, spirit gives them to me. I guess that is how you know I just share messages, I mean, if we share some big winners first or early on and later they produce, well, it is kind of an amazing confirmation. And to tell you how I’m really feeling, I kind of hope Persistence goes lower so we can get our average price per coin down. I loved it at $3 when I first talked about it and I loved it at $8 and I really love it at .60. Could it drop more? Maybe, but I just keep getting a little each month or so. With all of that said, you know I diversify my portfolio and spread my money across a number of them as to not put too much into any one or two projects. Let’s face it, this is gambling and anything can happen. While fortune favors the bold, diversification and common sense go a long way to offsetting risk. They say fortune favors the bold because people who are not afraid of risk and failure take chances. Some of those pan out and others don’t. There are no guarantees, so putting all of your eggs in one basket just isn’t very smart...even if you watch that one basket very closely.

Spark Token Airdrop from the Flare Network. Has the outlook changed for this project in a positive way due to all the developments it went through in the past 1.5 years? I know about 2 years ago you basically shared to ignore it as it was mostly to benefit XRP and the founders of the coin and that only about 100,000 wallets would even get any. You also shared that the inflation rate was going to be really high for the coin, but what color do you give it now? Hey, it can help XRP do smart contracts, which is good, and if they can ever finish it, it can have some runs, but remember, it was created by a fork from XRP, an airdrop if holding XRP and funded by XRP to help XRP. In Nov 2020 we shared it was not going to be very good, SLOW SLOW SLOW. And guess what, it has not been very good and it has been slow, slow, slow.

I also shared I would sell at least half quickly if it came out and if it had any value and would not risk sending XRP here or there to get it until very clear and no chance of messing up. The snapshot was taken at the end of 2020 and needed to be claimed in 2021 and there were only about 100,000 wallets eligible, from what I have been told. Regardless, I’m just not that excited about it, but will keep an open mind and see if it comes out and if they fix the problems I saw. I know that unless they change their plan, it will not have long term big value as it gets super inflated and really the big winners would only be the founders. Sorry, I understand it sounds amazing, but still Yellow. On the bright side, if they get it together, it can help XRP.

Persistence, when will you be moving over to the new 118 format coin? I'm just waiting until Mercury Retrograde is over and then I will reevaluate whether I want to wait to see if Persistence makes an easy option or if I will need to unstake and go through the steps. PappyDeez did a nice article with the how to (we published it here on patreon last week) for everyone and I am waiting another month or so before doing anything. I feel my coins are safe the way I have them for now.

Are "Passaways" NFTs on Theta going to go up in price significantly? There always seem to be a few in the different projects that do okay or even well, but unless you are in a real blue chip type of project (bored apes etc) the NFTs are hit and miss and personally I don't mess with them. I have one Secret Pineapple Society custom NFT that was given to me, but that is it. Someone did another NFT project and it had a nice reference to me, but I'm not really into many of the projects. I think the traditional art type of NFTs should have a very strong group of people, like a club with perks, if they are going to do well. Or be super rare and have a wide audience. I will put mine out when the time is right and they will do really well, but the real evolution in NFTs is still coming. NFTs as a concept are going to be really big, but we are early in the NFT game and I guess what I'm trying to say is that most of the early NFT projects won't do very well over time. It's kind of like cryptos, it's hard for people to pick the winners and winning concepts.

If you had $5,000 to put in, which one or two projects would you put it in today? First I would make sure I put some in precious metals and keep some in reserve with US Dollars, but assuming you've done that, I'd spread it around and feel it's good to add one or two projects from each of the "main crypto categories" as they will likely run at different times. Obviously we are in a long corrective market and regardless of whether it turns positive toward the end of this year or next, I'm okay with this down market and consider it an ACCUMULATION period. Cryptos are not going away and this is where the real money is made by patient people who just get the good projects and hang on for a couple of years. I will have team Whitedove list the main categories and my top picks in each of those categories, so you can see exactly what I'm doing:

DeFi (TOP 2)

Persistence

Aave

Store of Value OR Digital Currency (TOP 4)

XRP

XLM

BCH (not accumulating but also not selling any, it is a hold because we got it cheap and already sold a bunch over $1,000)

Smart Contracts, Layer One or Two Protocols (TOP 6)

Cardano

Ethereum. (could be a buy the rumor sell the news type of event, but Eth moving to POS is a big deal and we feel it can be a nice long term hold)

Polkadot

Polygon. (working with Disney recently, we want to build a position in this over time)

Near Protocol

Cosmos

Metaverse, NFT, and Gaming Related (TOP 4)

Disney (not out yet, if/when they come out with their own coin, I will get it)

The Sandbox

Decentraland

Bloktopia. Wild card bet...lottery ticket type of play I.e. small bet.

Utility Tokens (TOP 4)

Theta. Of the 900 or so projects we've covered, Theta is still one of the best use case projects actually providing a solution to a real challenge. Huge potential.

Theta Fuel

VET

LINK

Exchange Coins (TOP 3, while I like holding a little bit of these, they are relatively small plays for me and I have concerns about all of them. As I shared earlier in the report, I don't necessarily like the companies, except UNI because UNI is decentralized, but you can bet gov't and the powers that be will go after decentralized platforms which they feel threatened by or those they feel they cannot control. And the centralized exchanges will have to bend the knee of regulators in their jurisdictions).

FTT.

UNI.

Is the current move of Binance to delist USDC good for BUSD and BNB? Binance is scheduled to convert USDC to BUSD on sept. 29. There is a reason BNB is on my list of Top 23, not a big bet, but it can go up. I'm not a fan of stable coins, as I have said for a while because I don't have a need while using Caleb and Brown, but I understand some want/need them. BUSD will be okay just like USDC will, but I just won't use either as you have third party risk. Yes, there is third party risk with C&B, but I feel better about that. Bottom line, what you are seeing is more lines being drawn in the sand, so to speak, where you have "Eastern Money" verses "Western Money." Binance is not onboard with the US and Western Money and Controls. They saw what USDC did with Tornado Cash and simply banning any who even linked to it (either indirectly or directly). USDC is fine for now, but where you can "trade" it will be impacted. I don't use Binance and soon Binance will convert USDC and Tether and another one too I feel. However, Coinbase and Exodus and others will still use it. You have to use what works where you do your business. As I have been sharing in previous reports, I don't have any use for stable coins as I just leave some US Dollars on Caleb and Brown ready to deploy. I understand the use case and why people like stable coins, but you can see the direction things are going. The US gov't and "central banks" don't like stable coins that they can't control or that compete with the US dollar in any way, so don't expect things to get better on that front.

More Crypto Reviews.

Anything more you want to share about the crypto market? The main thing that spirit wanted me to share about cryptos is that people have to get out of the fear mode. It's hard on novice investors because when they are down they get emotional and a lot of new people haven't had the chance to catch up on, let's say, whatever they were behind on. Bitcoin, I don't see new all-time highs until probably 2024. But the people who are stuck in the gear of fear, or lack of faith, or no faith in something greater than themselves to assist them, then they're not going to do well. Anybody that's weak willed, weak minded, or lazy, or just likes things being all crazy and chaotic around them, the only way they're going to make it through this ride from this point on is if they have God in their life.

Next year, more people are going to start putting their money back in and people are starting to take money out. We start getting movement. But it's going to take a lot, because all of them (the cryptos) are so down that even when it starts to go up, it's going to take time for them to get to those high numbers.

Bottom line, when you do the opposite of your emotions, when it comes to investing, you do well. That's all it's about. There is a saying I like, "My heart is for family, but my balls are for business."

I like to say you should try to live your life as close to a prayer as you can. And then God is always going to take care of you. It's about having faith in God, having love in your heart, and love for each other, again, united we stand, divided we fall.

Bitcoin Cash. Ranked 30 and about $112. They're very frustrated. They're very frustrated right now. Hold on. They had certain things lined up that didn't go like they wanted them to go, but it seems like they're rebooting, and it feels like they're going to climb up. Yeah. I liked it and I still do like it, but they have lots to do if they want to become what they envisioned which was to be all that Bitcoin was supposed to be. Bitcoin Cash, believe it or not, is rebooting, and they're going to try to work it out. And they have to do that or they're going to be out of the game. They cannot just dilly dally around like they are. If they keep falling down the charts, they will end up like Litecoin and Digibyte. Back in the day, a few years ago when everyone was in love with Litecoin and Digebyte, I used to always pick Bitcoin Cash over those two. And Bitcoin Cash has done better than Litecoin and Digi. But Bitcoin Cash had better get focused because nothing is written in stone and no one is just going to hand things to them. All right. So, the clock is ticking on Bitcoin Cash.

Cloakcoin. Ranked 1349 and about .20. Yellow, sadly. Gave it a temporary “Green to Purple for a privacy coin” in 2021 as I saw the founder wanted to stick it to all the nay sayers and he did for a time. It ended up having a nice approx 10 X move and run up in 2021. But it looks like when it got delisted by Binance, it pretty much died off. As you know privacy coins are something spirit has shared, for over 4 years now, “will not attract the masses.” If you love them, then okay, but not for me for putting money into. I understand why some may need them. I am just saying that for 4 years I have shared they would not be where I would want to have money sitting for return on investment. Where can you even get this? Maybe there is a peer to peer market. Either way, Yellow.

Comdex. Ranked 4728 and about .20. Will their stable coin Composite be successful. Will Harbor protocol airdrop be successful? Will they launch their mainnet based on their ongoing testnets soon? Comdex is one which Persistence stakers got for free as an airdrop from Persistence. It's going to take time for this to develop and it is not one I would go out and buy. I will hang on to what I was given/airdropped. This can be something though. Their stable coin can work but they have to get the formula right and it has to be backed by real assets and not just an equation, or what do you call that? Yes, not just an algorithm. It has to be heavily backed/linked to assets to be successful. As for the Harbor protocol airdrop for comdex, cosmos and osmo holders, I feel it may have some hiccups but it can have some value. Would I buy any? No. If I get some for free and it has value, I'd hang on to see how it develops. Hey, it has a chance, like a coin toss. In time, Comdex will launch their mainnet, but it takes a lot of time and work to get these things off the ground and really tested and working. Mainnet for Comdex Soon? Well, within a year or so feels very possible. Comdex is Green maybe Green Purple, but I like its' chances.

DigiByte: Yellow Green. Ranked 155 and .009. Oh Digi. They have a shot and chance for one more spike, but time is running out for them. Nothing has changed except the more time that passes, the harder it becomes for them. Of course we are in a down market and nothing is doing well, but as it is falling lower and lower, the chances of it getting attention decrease. Yes, there is still a chance for another spike during a run up, but I would be taking profits. You know it has not been in my top 20 for a long time. Please read the May 2022 Report if you want even more details.

DXCAD and XCAD. First XCAD still has a chance. Yellow Green. I remember giving it a Green or Yellow Green. Still the same, it has a chance. Now this, DXCAD is a decentralized exchange (DEX platform) to host fan tokens in the XCAD community. It is not available in coinmarketcap/coingecko yet. Hey, believe it or not, this can work, but I don't see it being a big top doggie type of project like others we are in. XCAD is ranked around 300, it is tough to get attention and they need some. Some people might want to take a flyer on this. I'll stick with my top 23. This has potential though and I don't feel bad about it, but again, it is like a coin toss, it could go either way. So let's give both DXCAD and XCAD a Yellow Green.

Exodus, wallet and exchange. I still feel okay with it but wouldn't store any big money there because, you know, it's technically a "hot wallet" vs. Cold storage like Ledger and Trezor. But, yes, while the fees can be higher than Caleb and Brown sometimes, it is easy to use and pretty safe if people follow all protocols. Make sure to type in your password while in airplane mode.

GnoLand (GNOT) is reportedly a big project on Cosmos. Dual token model: $GNOT is the gas token and $GNOSH is the governance token. It aims to fix challenges many other layer ones face and vastly improve Cosmos. 75% of GNOT will be airdropped to Cosmos holders. Will this be successful? Gno.land. Well, I think they have a whole lot of work to do. Oh my. But it's going to take some time to get it worked out... They don't have it dialed in just yet. Yeah, they don't have it dialed in yet. It's a big project, a lot of work to do, and they stand a good chance of making it happen. It's just going to take time, but it's got a good chance of being successful. All right. Fair enough. Yellow Green because it's still early. But, good chance for Green and higher. Let's come back to this so we don't miss out if they are making good progress. This has potential. Whoever picked this is doing good research. People should watch this one.

Lido Dao (LDO). Ranked 70 and about $1.72. In concept, this is to Ethereum pretty much what Persistence will be to Cosmos. Yes, it feels okay for now, but it has run up because of Ethereum staking. We need to follow up on this. You know, keep an eye on it. May be one to look at if good drop in price. Let's give it a short term Green so we make sure to check on it if our friends are interested.

Background: It is a liquid staking solution for Ethereum. Lido lets users stake their ETH - with no minimum deposits or maintaining of infrastructure - whilst participating in on-chain activities, e.g. lending, to compound returns.

Terra Classic (LUNC). I feel like this is not good, at all, but like predicted for last couple of months "it can have runs." Not for me. There is no good reason for it go up other than speculation and it won't end well. Can some people "play it" and make some money? Maybe, but not most and eventually someone will get left holding the bag. Not good karma to get something that you know is junk and try to sell it, you know?

Theta Mainnet 4.0. Theta currently ranked 47 and about $1.05. Can Ms. Whitedove comment how mainnet 4.0 will affect price recovery for Theta in future reports? I recall her predictions for the 3.0 mainnet were quite accurate. Theta Mainnet 4.0 is going to be good for Theta. Listen, Theta is not out like people think. It is going to be big. They will get this upgrade out on time, in December. They're going at it, and they're going hard, and I feel really good about it. And timing is a bitch, but they are working at warp speed. They want this baby up and out, and I feel like the upgrade is going to be delivered in the time that they're saying.

Stellar (XLM). Ranked 26 and about .11. Still a long term hold for me. It's in my list of Top 23 and I like holding some. It will go up again and past where it was. It's still a good one to look into. Do I like some others even more? Sure, but you know that. It will be a long term winner though and I like it. Gotta have patience though.

SuperOne: Yellow. High risk with a chance for a favorable outcome as we shared earlier. While I see potential for a jump in price, I also still see "unethical" and "greed." So for that reason, even though I absolutely love Kait who shared this with us, I'm feeling maybe this might fall more into the CAUTION type of bucket. But remember, HEX is pretty much a ponzi scheme and I shared that years ago, but it did well for some, even though I shared I would not touch it. If I am wrong, I'm sorry, but I no longer feel the potential upside is worth the risk with it. I hope I am wrong. It's funny because Kait (our friend who shared this with us), her energy is amazing and she is a beautiful person and she feels this will be great. It is like, they (SuperOne) could do something with it, but the leader is leaning to the negative side. You know, just get people's money and keep it. The history with some of the key players (not Kait) is not good. It's like they are not doing things the right way and they are going down the wrong path, the greedy path. Like, do they have permission from all of the athletes and entertainers for their pictures? The more I look at this, the more I feel the “red flags” I initially got are too big to overcome.

Last review published on 22 August 2022 follows: “SuperOne. Yellow Purple. A friend asked, "I noticed it was kind of a mixed review as you wrote "high risk with potential for high reward." I've seen your Portfolio and know it is not in your Top 5 or 10 and I know "Purple" just means you got it, but Is this one you would put any type of big money in?" No. No. No. No, I would not put much money in this. And if I didn't have spare discretionary money, I would not hurry. If you wait until it comes out, you may not get any of the “bonuses,” but the risk will be lower. For those who read the write up and predictions, there were several very clear "RED FLAGS" and several very clear "Positive Signs." While we picked up a package to make a little bet on it, this is not one I would go big on, just a small little bet relative to my top picks. Can this be big if they do what they say? Yes, but it is a wild card play, as I call it. I'm going to rate it Yellow Purple from now on so new friends really read the write ups. Purple because I picked a little up and because they have a winning CONCEPT. Yellow because I see potential "delays" and they still need to "get it together" and "make some personnel changes" and clear out the "greed and unethical" aspect I saw. Yes, they can actually make this successful and if so, it can reach as high as "$10 to $11" in time, but there is also a chance it completely fails. I like it for the concept and the potential, but it is not a big bet type of project for me. If I could only bet on 2 Metaverse projects, they would be THE SANDBOX, DECENTRALAND and I would wait to see if Disney comes out with a coin. If I wanted to place a few risky small bets (and I did), I would look at Blocktopia and SuperOne. 22 Aug 2022.”

TDROP. Ranked 3808 and about .005. This is another one we got for free and I am just hanging on to mine to see what happens. I feel it can go up in time. Would I buy it? No.

Whackd Ranked 5489 and about .003. This is John McAfee token and supposedly when it hits a certain price a “dead man trigger” will release 60 terabytes of info on the Deepstate. Some say John faked his death. No. Stay away. This is clearly a money grab. No. Red.

XRP. About .40. On Saturday both Ripple and the SEC filed to have the judge settle the case. Last report we shared it was still going to go in XRPs favor and it wouldn't be too much longer. Some friends wrote me and said I was wrong because the hearing wasn't scheduled until first quarter of 2023. Well, it might still take some time, but it looks like it can move a little faster now than many thought. I still see Ripple settling and coming out on top overall, but I see there will be some give and take. This judge, is not bought and paid for so Ripple has a fair shake. They did some things wrong, but so did the SEC. And I feel like the judge is just going to look through all the papers and go by whatever the actual laws are that apply. And I feel like the judge is going to point out mistakes and points on both sides. The judge is going to try to be fair about it. This case has been a mess because both sides actually believe they are completely 100% right. That's why nobody can get anywhere, because it's like, "No, we're right." And the other side is like, "No, we're right." And in truth, both of them are right on different points, but the judge will see wherever the wrong is, and then he or she is going to call it. And whether that's that they (Ripple) have to pay something, or whether he or she just lets the whole thing go. But I feel like the judge is going to rule fairly, believe it or not. Bottom line, I don't see XRP going bye-bye. I don't see them going bye-bye. To be clear, the judge is going to rule more to the favor of Ripple, but there's something he's going to ask them to do. I don't know if it's money, compensation, or some type of agreement, but like I said, they're going to still be up there.

WORLD PREDICTIONS and PSYCHIC INSIGHTS

by Michelle Whitedove

FINANCES

The Federal Reserve. The Fed has come out with instant payment called FedNow which will roll out in July 2023. Are they moving us over to CBDC? They have been working on this for a long time as we've been predicting. Yes, a digital dollar is coming, but here is the good news, I don't see it being ready and up and running by next summer. With that said, Spirit has shared everything we need to know to be prepared. Have good credit, have US Dollars outside of the bank for now, have precious metals in your control/where you can get to them with no middleman, have some cryptos, have a skill or means to barter and be sure to have stocked food and water for your loved ones.

<https://www.frbservices.org/financial-services/fednow>

AU <https://www.rba.gov.au/payments-and-infrastructure/central-bank-digital-currency/>

Wall Street. The Stock Markets will go down again, but at this point, you don't need to be a psychic to know that and I have warned about that for a long time so everyone should understand that. We said that last report and then it had one of the biggest one day drops it's ever had it dropped 1200 in a day. Still could be another in September.

Interest Rates. I went through your previous reports to see what you have been predicting for interest rates and I wanted to say "good job." You nailed it. In 2020 and 2021 you shared "short term down, but they will start going up. Slow at first, but then really fast." Well, you nailed that. Interest rates, just looking at mortgage rates, in the US hit lows in 2021 around 3% for a 30 year fixed rate. Then, in 2022 they doubled in just months. A 30 year fixed rate mortgage is all the way up over 6% right now. Where do you see interest rates going in the future? Thank you, it is nice to get confirmations. Like we have been publishing, the FED will have to reverse course in the next months. They will stop raising rates within the next 6 or so months (timing is hard, but it should be well within a year). Then they will have to reverse course and start lowering them. Will they get way way down again? Probably not low low again any time in the near future because inflation is not just going to go away quickly. However interest rates will eventually peak and then start moving down. There is a point where if they go too high then everything breaks. I do see most things breaking in time though as I have predicted for many years. Remember all of the predictions I have shared from spirit over the years about “all the systems are crumbling?” Well, I see them crumbling up through the next years into around 2030 or so, you know, plus or minus a couple of years. Anyone who is paying attention can see confidence in gov’t and the old systems are all crumbling. It will take years but eventually the FED screws up enough that they are dismantled...I know that is a big prediction, but I see the FED goes away in the distant future.

Silver. Yes, I have shared for years that I buy 1 ounce silver Eagles. Over the past couple of years many have said I was silly to bother with Eagles because there were other 1 ounce silver options that were much cheaper. Well, let’s look what has happened recently. Silver Eagles are over $30 an ounce while many other silver one ounce coins are just a little over $20. Our silver Eagles have gone up over 50% this year. Remember, early in the year we predicted and published silver would reach over $30 this year? The only coins I buy (and the only coins many of you buy are Eagles because that is what spirit has been sharing for years)--those who have been watching the precious metals markets have noticed that recently the silver Eagles have reached well over $30! Thank you spirit. But for those who just buy regular silver because it is cheaper, you will be happy, in time, too. Silver is going up, just never as quick as you want. However, I don’t plan on selling mine, it is for emergencies and for storing wealth when I take crypto profits. Could someone sell their silver eagles right now and pick up a lot more Philharmonics? Sure, but factor in shipping and fees etc. to see if you really want to go through the hassle. I won’t do that, but for some it is an option to explore because you picked silver eagles over the years while many others didn’t. Good job. Where do I buy my precious metals? Miles Franklin, Tell them you know me and they put you in a group for quick shipping and special care, smile.

Gold and Silver haven’t been doing anything this year, what gives? That is just flat out not true. It depends what country you live in and what your currency is doing. Precious metals have multi x’d for some around the globe. I have clients in countries which have seen inflation skyrocket and their dollar absolutely tube against Precious metals and the US Dollar. But, like I have been sharing for years, the US Dollar is the best looking horse in the glue factory, I hate that saying, but the US Dollar will be one of the last fiat currencies standing. So that is why I have been keeping a significant percent of my liquid capital in US Dollars for the past couple of years. Remember my L.A.S has 20% or more in US Dollars. Eventually, when the US Dollar tubes, precious metals in US Dollar terms will fly, and that can happen anytime between now and around 2030 as I have been publishing for LONG TIME. That is why the message spirit keeps sharing with me is to “GET THEM NOW WHILE YOU CAN.”

WORLD PREDICTIONS

The September event? We likely won't know until we look back in a month or so. Today is the 20th and there's still a lot of time left in September for global events. So far, the events which impact us all, whether we know it or not, are the Queen's passing and Vatican finances. Those two things are so much more significant than most realize and they are tied together. Also the stubborn Inflation which saw a higher than expected number last week. And probably the rate hike coming which does impact a lot of things, there are ripple effects which come down the road with each of these.

Think about this. The Queen has passed. I said she would pass soon, and in 2018 before Harry married, I predicted that the Queen and her husband would pass close together and so it was just 17 months! That happens with Soul Mates. Now the monarchy Will Not be run the same way because of her passing.

This is much more relevant than most know. And you will see a lot of change in the future which is all connected to this. And that affects money too. And the UK has called in their £20 notes and £50 notes for the end of September. Not only the Vatican, the Vatican called in all their money from everywhere, all their investments. They're bringing it all back. In short, the Queen's passing is more significant than most people realize. It impacts the total world order of things. She had more power than many people think. The Vatican is tied in with England, and so, that changes money, power position, everything. It's funny, for the past couple of months spirit shared the word "September, bittersweet", remember, "September, bittersweet." And it's been bitter... because some people are very fond of the monarch and royalty, and it's really sad to them. But then others are like "Good. Good riddance, monarch." Because of colonization. So, it depends on what side of the fence you stand on. Those that are really fond of the royals, they're devastated. Those that are completely against monarchy are celebrating. So, it is really this bifurcation, this bittersweet. King Charles. He's 73, so he is already planning on the next in line which of course be his eldest son which will be faster than you think!! But the key point is, the Queen's passing changes everything now. It changes everything because the monarchy is connected to the Vatican. They go hand in hand. And the Vatican is so much more powerful than people know. I know, I know, you hear about the "separation of church and state: but it is not separated, they just make it look that way. September defines a lot of things for heads of states and the people that we don't see, and things that are being changed and done.

They want a one world currency. They want a one world religion, that's not even religion, just one order. So, that means they're going to try take away the religions and the churches and they're already working on it. And any holy, sacred books like the Bible, they are going to try and get rid of them. And they want it be basically like Communism. Good luck with that, because there's no way they're separating Islam from the Quran. And there's no way they're separating the Christians from the Bible. They can try that all they want & that's their plan. But good luck with that. Many people don't take well to other people telling them what to do with their life or their religion. For years, I've shared we would be split into two main groups. The sheep which get led off to be sheared and the ones who say no. Spirit has shared this before, that all this one world government and one world order and one world religion and one world currency stuff will fail, because they might try and do that stuff, but what always happens with nation states is they always end up at odds with each other. They just won't jump onto that. The US isn't going to jump in with China and Russia and say, "Oh, one world government." China's not going to jump in with the others and take a back seat. Xi has made it clear, he does not even want to speak with the Pope!

Queen Elizabeth, was she 100% human? That's the question. Yeah, I know why they are asking, I know, because of the reptilians. Sorry, I don't get a clear answer.

Gold!?! Uganda. Recent reports that suggest they just discovered a huge 31 million tons of gold. Stop, I already got that this has been exaggerated, greatly. You know, it's ...huge embellishment. There is gold at this site, but nothing like they are reporting. They found gold, but it's not like that, no, no. Basically, when you see articles like this, generally, someone is either trying to attract capital to invest in it or they're trying to get the average person to think gold is worthless because there's so much of it. Or, because China has a strong presence, they want other governments to believe they have more gold for strategic purposes or to try and say they can back currency or something of that nature. Gold backing a currency doesn't work when you have to trust that each country says what they say they have, do you know what I mean. There is no trust, so that becomes a difficult thing for those who think the world is going back to a gold standard. Listen, gold and precious metals are important, but we are not going to see a solid gold backed currency. So, short story, there is gold there, but they're definitely exaggerating.

Social Credit Scores? Our government in the US won't do it, England does not want it, and Canada won't let it get that far, but China is working hard and doing it.

How Do I “Stop Being Tracked?”

In our August Patreon Report, Page 28, we wrote, "Your phone is really a tracking device that you can talk on." Think about that. Nothing is private, just know that. If you don't think you're being watched or listened to, or if you think that you have privacy, you're in la-la land, because that phone you have, you are being tracked. Many apps download your address book, emails and photos too."

After reading that our cool friend Kim wrote the following: "Has Michelle and TW heard about de-Googled phones, where tracking is blocked? Instead of a stock Android you could flash your phone with open source projects such as CalyxOS or GrapheneOS. calyxos.org grapheneos.org
It IS POSSIBLE to become very private and even anonymous and avoid tracking."

Kim goes on to write, “If you REALLY want full anonymity you need to:

1. Buy NEW phone (bought with cash) like Google Pixel models (only some brands are flashable with custom OS)
2. Install custom OS (like CalyxOS or GrapheneOS)

3. Get a NEW cellphone prepaid number as well (bought with cash)
4. NEVER use that new number for any calls or sms messages (if you dont want cell towers to be able to triangulate your position like home address). Use Signal and other services, that route and forward your phone calls and messages.
5. Only use services via VPN protected WiFi.

Yes it takes a lot of preparation and work, but it is doable. And you don't have to do it all, depending on how private/anonymous you wanna be. If you really care about privacy this book is in depth by a pro. "Extreme Privacy: What It Takes to Disappear" (Michael Bazzell) Michael Bazzell has helped hundreds of celebrities, billionaires, and everyday citizens completely disappear from public view. He is now known in Hollywood as the guy that "fixes" things. amazon.com/Extreme-Privacy-What-Takes-Disappear/dp/B09W78GW2T

AUSTRALIA -I'd really like to know exactly what is at Pine Gap Australia and why? It's a joint government site. They're doing a multitude of things on this site. From data collection, spying, and oh, there's more than what you can see from above...it is underground too. You know that weather manipulation is a real thing, right? I've talked about that a lot over the past years and people used to think I was crazy. But weather manipulation is very real and they can even do it with lasers. I've probably already said too much. But listen, you don't need to be a psychic to figure out that when there is a base off in the middle of nowhere, there doing stuff they don't want people to know about. Yeah, that's the whole point, is they're way out there in the middle of the desert where nobody can get to them unless they have clearance, unless they fly in and it's very dry there, there's not a lot going on there, so it's a good cover for them, our government and our allies. They eves drop, no I should say, they collect data on everyone. And a lot of times they collect data on US citizens and they collect it from overseas sites, so they don't get in trouble breaking constitutional rights and stuff.

Doomsday glacier. Please comment on the Doomsday glacier, Thwaites, recently in headlines because it is hanging by its fingers, melting fast – it's on the coast of Antarctica. Well, not like is being asked, but all the ice is evaporating and all that water, they're trying to figure out where is it going to go? Well, it's going to be distributed everywhere and it's going to cause more flooding - Think in terms of not just water levels, but in terms of moisture in the atmosphere. Where does it go? It travels. It's interesting, one area thaws, a different area starts to get colder, and so things shift, so while as this melts, something else will begin cooling, and so to some degree, over a very long period, things balance. But this one, if it breaks off and falls it will cause tsunami warnings and frankly I'm worried about New Zealand, Patagonia, Cape Horn and those little island chains Shetlands and South Sandwich islands. Its huge chunk of ice~ at approx.70,000-square-miles this glacier is as big as Florida

Climate Change. Everything is cyclical. Periods of warming. Periods of cooling. Does man effect our environment? Yes, absolutely. Mankind has been abusing mother earth for a long time now and mother earth defends herself. We need to care for and be good stewards of our planet. We need to do our part and not pollute our oceans and air. We need to be smart. No, solar panels, windmills and electric cars are not the answer ... everyone knows we power the electric cars with coal and other sources which power the electric grid. Everyone knows we mine the earth for the materials to make the batteries. The answer is balance and believe it or not, there is free energy technology which has been invented and available for a long time, "they" just don't want us to have it. So when it comes to the environment, it is vital and so important, but for those who think that the world's going to go out that way, it's not, it's not going to go out that way although we are in a prophesized time of great Earth Changes.

LOCATION LOCATION LOCATION

When it comes to where you live, just keep your mind open and be in the present and be as self-sufficient as you can, but the problem is once big countries like Russia or China or the US make moves, it impacts the surrounding areas. Do you follow me? For example, when Russia goes into Ukraine, the surrounding/boarder countries need to pay attention.

The last few reports we covered all 50 states and the majority of countries in Europe, but let's try and hit a few more for this report and in the next report as well.

Cyprus, Republic of - Overall, okay for now, but know their history with bail ins and banking, don't trust the banks, but I say that about all countries.

Czech Republic - Overall, while they will have challenges like many other locations, I mean, it's about the same. So you can make it work.

France - Rough economy and leadership, but, like most places, if you have money and know how to keep it safe, then there are nice areas, and there are also No Go Areas.

Greenland (self-governing but part of Denmark) - I like it. Beautiful. Overall, more yes than no, but still, everyplace has challenges.

Mexico. I have been warning about earthquakes in Mexico. Pray for the good people of Mexico. Sadly, there will be more. Unless Mexico changes course and fixes all of the corruption, which I don't see happening, Mexico's going to get keep getting hammered.

SPIRITUALLY SPEAKING

Angels. God has sent legions and legions to help us. I'm talking about Archangel Michael and his legions. They're all warrior angels and they know how to fight the darkness and to protect the innocent, and that's what warrior angels do.

Every human being has guardian angels, you come down with at least two guardian angels, one master spirit guide and a couple of earth angels, and then depending on how evolved you are, meaning your consciousness, it is really up to you how fast you want to learn. Or how slow you want to go. This is the schoolhouse of learning. It is the school of hard knocks because it's based on duality, but light versus darkness, love versus contempt, faith and conviction versus fear.

I'd encourage each of you to call out to your Guardian Angels, Ask them to help, they can intercede with your permission. Although they cannot participate in dark endeavors.

One world religion. Well looks like a One World Religion Is in motion CHRISLAM is confirmed, it's a new religion; merging several without mention of Jesus - from the Higher Committee of Human Fraternity [HCHM]. Sept 19, 2022 the 7th Congress of Leaders of World and Traditional Religions met. The Pope just signed off on creating an inclusive-style one world religion. But separate people from their beliefs or politics this causes wars. Of course they will try for a one world currency. A new world order, a one world order power structure, one world religion, but "they will fail" as long as We the Global People, God's children who are given Free-Will, please DO Not Comply! A One World religion looks like it's inclusive although ancient sacred texts warn of this very thing; mark my words it is a slippery slope towards [removing Jesus from Christianity] ushering in the antichrist who comes with a smile and pretends to want love and unity. Be Aware. Use discernment in all things.

Traditional Religions. So governments they are picking on the churches, just as I said in last month's report. And they are taking God out of the world, so to speak, and telling us that we can't pray, or we can't be a Christian or we can't be a Catholic, or that we can't be this or that we can't be that, they are not going to be successful.

Spirit has been telling me this over and over, "Michelle, get up and speak, you have a voice, use it. Michelle playing small doesn't serve you. Michelle, you are overwhelmed right now, stop focusing on all that we showed you, back it up now and be in the present." So I just try to share a little each month and people can read past reports, everything is in there. We have so many new friends who don't know that so many of the great questions they ask about the world, war, environment, weather, economics, recession/depression, cryptos, the viruses, the vaxx, spirituality, star beings, the heavens, the animal kingdom and on and on, so many of topics have been covered by spirit and are available. I guess the challenge is finding everything. Wish I could find someone to put everything thing we've published in one big searchable database, that would be cool and make things so easy for everyone. Maybe we need to work on that.

The most important message I want to share with our friends is, "If you're good with God and you're good with yourself and your family and your heart and your mind and your conscience, then that is step one. Then if you're doing the best that you can and you have a pure intent and you're coming from love with God in your life, then that is step two. Then if you believe and give thanks, you're good to yourself and you're good to others, and you go through your days having a pure intent and striving to be positive and creating positive things and doing it lovingly, it's all great, it's all going to work out for you. Just start where you are, do what you can and then sleep well at night. Each day is a gift, you never know how many you will have. Just try to stay in the present and shine your light.

It's all about just trying to take high road. Give a little more than you have because when you do that, you'll see that it comes back to you tenfold and then it's the best feeling when you help somebody out that you know really needed that help and you just changed their life, that means you didn't just change their life, you changed that person, their life with their kids, with their significant other and with work, it's such a wonderful domino effect. And spirit keeps reiterating, "People, you beautiful souls, be positive, be happy, be kind, be God-like."

If we just all do good unto others, do good to yourself, then there you have it, it's not so hard to be kind, to be nice, to be in the moment and be loving and laugh and have good, clean, fun, and I want to end on the note and say to everybody, "Hey, this is the time to make your bucket list, and if there was ever a time for you to start checking it off, do it now because you don't know if you have next week or a year or how much time, live for the moment, live in the now-"

Money, should not be the focus, it's necessary, we all get that, but it is not to be the focus. Again, just have a pure intent. If you have a pure intent and you're taking care of your house, your order, and then you're even going above and beyond it and helping others, now you've achieved your own incarnation contract and you're surpassing it by helping others, do you get it? It's wonderful ripple effect--to get back to peace, love and happiness and not forgetting who our creator is and that's where we should take our problems, and that's where we get our solutions from.

What prayers should people be praying now? Always the Metatron prayer, it's a prayer of Protection and abundance. And you can add to that what you want, it's a prayer to tailor to your needs. Please pray for humanity, pray for peace and pray for love, people desperately need love, empathy and kindness right now.

Dreams. Are dreams of relatives who have passed, just our subconscious playing tricks or are they trying to communicate with us?

During our sleeping time we rest, heal and recharge our spirit, but often it's the time when our spirit is the most active. Our sleep time provides an opportunity for our spirit to leave our body and refresh itself in the spirit world. For many people their dreams are the nearest they get to the spirit world while still living in this world. All people dream when they are asleep, those dreams are very important because they represent another opportunity for us to contact the spirit world.

Often our spirits live out actions and events that we are going to encounter in this life - we have a 'dry run' of things to come in our conscious life. So dreams are our window to the spirit world and our own future.

More importantly it is "Spirit's" way of initiating contact with us, for while we sleep we are relaxed and our minds are open and receptive. No prejudices or constraints limit our ability to absorb information when we sleep. This is the time that spirits choose to approach, when we are at our most receptive.

A while ago during a private reading for a lady, her mother's spirit came in to tell me that she loved her daughter very much and that her youngest daughter, my client's sister, needed her help. The other sister was going through some difficult times and needed love and assurance that everything would be fine and the problems would be resolved. The mother had been visiting the younger sister in her dreams, giving her comfort and love to ease her distress.

After the reading was finished I counseled my client to ask her sister if she had been dreaming recently about her mother. Sure enough, the other sister confirmed that since her own troubles had begun she had frequently dreamt of her mother who appeared in her dreams with comforting messages.

The experiences of my client and her sister demonstrate that spirits are constantly coming to our aid in times of danger or stress. Frequently, a spirit approaches when we are asleep and in our dream time to help another.

Dreams are not imaginary, nor are they illusions; they are actual events, situations, and meetings that our souls go through while our bodies lie asleep in bed. The world of dreams is the real world, and our waking lives are merely an illusion.

Mystery Reading. Our friend asks, "One evening when I was going to sleep, right when I was about to fall asleep, there came a very intense energy towards me. I immediately woke up and felt very stressed. I think it was my Great Grandfather. Can you tell me what it was?"

I don't feel it's your grandfather. It gives a really strong energy, let me see here, let me look at her, she's definitely sensitive, you know, intuitive. You know what? It was like...

And now I know why she thought it was her grandfather. Her grandfather had really strong features, really strong personality, but it wasn't him, it was actually interesting though, I'm just seeing family, huh? Okay. Well, a family can be our angels. It was actually one of her guardian angels. The intense feeling she was getting was her guardian angel taking their wings and wrapping their wings around her, and let me tell you when that happens, you feel it, it's so powerful that you kind of get freaked out because it can be overwhelming- So she's thinking, "Oh, my God, is this good? Is it bad?" Because it's so impactful. It's like, there's no words for it.

The best thing I can say is God's unconditional love, conquers everything, and when you feel the hand of God, or let's say, one of God's angels because God created angels first before God created humans, and we were created to do his will, whether that's being under the ranks of Michael or Raphael, that's the angel of healing, and all his Legion are, they all have a job and a purpose in a specific area, and it's their job to do all the work, whether it's healing, whether it's saving, whether it's guiding us through our contract- Sorry, I went off track, what she wants to know is what was the purpose of the visit? Protection- To protect her- To protect her and to let her know that, "I'm here," spirit wanted her to feel spirit so that she would get used to that type of connection and energy because that's a lot to hold, it's a powerful experience.

So spirit is just their protecting and getting her used to the feeling. She doesn't need to worry or be fearful. We all get visits, some of us feel them, and some of us don't. Bottom line, share with our friend, that it's protection and not to be afraid of it, she should embrace it because that was her support team, her guardian angel. I'd tell her, "Girl, keep shining your light, keep shining that light and keep helping." And we have lots of intuitive people in our group. This is the time for all light workers to shine their light and send positive energy out. So for all the mediums and psychics that are part of my Patreon, my messages to them, shine your light and do your work and be one with God and all will be well. Spirit wants all Lightworkers up and running!!!

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH

With coming food shortages I'm concerned. For those of us that can't grow gardens is there any other suggestions?

Sure, in my household we are prepping a few ways: store bought canned foods, Canning small batches of fresh produce, freezer full of meats and veggies, stocking organic whole food vitamin chews, and now we have bought seeds to sprout and grow Microgreens indoor or outdoor for high quality Nutrition. It's so simple you can grow these super foods in a Ball Canning Jar each week, so why not?

Q: There is a relatively unknown author whose' books I have read, but I'm not convinced. The author claims that "the Covid-19 pandemic was orchestrated by supernatural forces attempting to "dismantle" the world economic system and "control" the population using new technologies like 5G." What do you think about that? It sounds like he reads your posts, does he? Keep doing what you're doing. You're the best. Much love from the right on the left coast. Can you give me your favorite book recommendation? Written by you of course. Thank you so much...

As for the author, trust your gut. If you aren't feeling it, then you are probably right. We didn't know who he was until you asked and looked up the quote you shared. I have shared that covid was man made and spirit had me share that way back in Jan of 2020 before most in the US even knew about it or thought it was coming here. Remember back before you saw even one American wearing a mask. I predicted "When you see everyone in the US wearing masks, you will know it is real." We have also shared, for years that 4G and 5G are not good for humans. We must do our best to protect ourselves and our family from EMF radiation because it is not conducive to the human body. And, as you know, we've shared that there are the "powers that be that you cannot see "or the "they" who are controlling things and treat us like guinea pigs and that covid was about control. Also, Spirit has had me share many times that the advances in technology do allow "them" to track and control the population more efficiently. I don't want to comment on whether someone copies my work or predictions, there are many great sources in the world. Hopefully your gut will tell you what's what. If you haven't read "She Talks with Angels," my first book, check it out. It is available on amazon published in 2020 with many of predictions about Earth Changes and SocioEconomic changes happening now.

Prayer and meditation are the messages I have been getting. Spirit said, "Have you been praying every day?" And I'm like, "Yes." And they go, "Have you been doing the Metatron prayer and meditating? You need to meditate more, Michelle." I was like, "Oh boy, I'm in trouble." So I've been doing that. Reading, praying, and meditating. I feel good today. I love doing this for our friends. I get excited every month to see what messages we can share. I want to thank each of you, from the bottom of my heart for your support and love. Without you, there is not Patreon and we would not discover all the information that Spirit has to share.

When you're prayerful each day, it will help you! Prayer is a form a communication and when you are communicating with God, your energy shifts. You unknowingly raise your vibration. This is such a great way to begin your day! Especially now, prayer is important. Pray for the innocent, Pray for the animals, Pray for Mother Earth because she sustains us, Pray for your loved ones, Pray for Freedom for all of God's children.

We hope that you enjoyed this report,

I send you my unconditional love and illumination,
